DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group 1, claim(s) 1-2 and 46-52 drawn to memory devices with a substrate, a Schottky diode and a variable resistive element.

Group 2, claim(s) 3-5, and 34-45, drawn to memory devices with a semiconductor substrate, metal plugs and a chalcogenide or variable resistance layer, and a diode.

Group 3, claim(s) 6-14, 20-26, 29-33, and 53-56 drawn to memory devices with an insulative substrate, and a variable resistance element.

Group 4, claim(s) 15-19, 27-28 and 57-58, drawn to a memory device with selector circuits for fixing potential.

Group 5, claim(s) 59-68, drawn to a memory device with a sense amplifier and first and second current detecting circuits.

Group 6, claim(s) 69-77, drawn to a memory device with a variable resistance element, a diode and a write circuit.

Group 7, claim(s) 78-82, drawn to a memory device with a variable resistance element, a diode, a bit line circuit, and a word line circuit.

Group 8, claim(s) 83-88, drawn to a memory device with one-dimensional addresses defined in a two-dimensional address space.

Group 9, claim(s) 89-93, drawn to a memory device with ends of a group of the memory cells coupled in common to a word line via a selecting device while the other ends are coupled to different bit lines, respectively, in each said memory cell array

Art Unit: 2894

2. The groups of inventions listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

3. Each of the inventions above is a separate and unrelated inventive concept. They lack unity of invention because even though the inventions of these groups require the technical feature of variable resistance material and a diode, this technical feature is not a special technical feature as it does not make a contribution over the prior art in view of Ovshinsky, (US 6,141,241). The special technical feature of each invention is distinct from every other, invention, and there is no single inventive concept. Further, there is no technical relationship among the inventions that involves at least one common or corresponding special technical feature. Hence unity of invention is lacking.

4. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected invention or species.

Art Unit: 2894

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions have unity of invention (37 CFR 1.475(a)), applicant must provide reasons in support thereof. Applicant may submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. Where such evidence or admission is provided by applicant, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.
